HOLLIS CLINE, Ph.D.
Hahn Professor and Chair
Department of Neuroscience
Scripps Research Institute

Exosome-mediated Protein Intercellular Transport in the Healthy Brain and Neurological Disease

Exosome-mediated protein transport between brain cells is an underappreciated mechanism of intercellular communication. Dr. Cline will describe her lab’s recent and ongoing studies investigating the exosome-mediated intercellular signaling in the healthy brain and in neurological disease.